Carols Broadcast at Broadway-Main

Christmas Carols are being broadcast through a loud speaker on the roof of Lindley's Drug Store throughout Christmas week adding much to the Christmas Spirit.

VISITING IN IOWA

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Ward and children, 7895 Bryan Court, left a week ago on a motor trip through New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and other states, expecting to spend Christmas at their old home in Des Moines. Mr. Ward is manager of Ward & McGuire Lumber Co.

DATES CLAIMED

December — 23 Christmas tree party, Broadway and Imperial.

January 4—Holy Name business meeting, St. John of the Cross, 8 p.m.

January 8—Communion for Holy Name Society, followed by breakfast, St. John of the Cross.

January 8—Ham dinner, V.F.W. hall, Imperial at Olive, 3 p.m.

Ask New Speed Zone on Imperial

A petition signed by 32 property owners on Imperial has been filed with San Diego County Board of Supervisors asking the establishment of a 35 mile speed zone on that street between Mt. Vernon and the Broadway junction east of the St. John of the Cross Catholic Church.

Imperial is now a 55-mile speed zone and the petition stated that it "has developed into a speedway and with heavy traffic during certain hours the situation has become exceedingly dangerous."

Review Changes to 7 Columns

As the reader can readily see when he picks up this issue of the Review, the page size has been changed to seven columns. For a small town weekly seven columns makes for a better make up and gives the advertisers a better play for display.

The new size also fits the mechanical layout of the printing plant to better advantage.

We hope you like it.

NAMED ON BOARD

Harry L. Hall, assistant cashier in the Investment Service Department of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, has been appointed treasurer of the San Diego County Water Authority. He succeeds Walter B. Whitcomb, vice-president of First National, who resigned as treasurer and as chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee but will retain his membership on the board. M. J. Shelton, a member of the board, will succeed Whitcomb as chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel J. Thayer of Boston, Mass., came recently to locate in California. They are residing with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cressey of the Cressey Dry Goods Store. Mrs. Cressey and Mrs. Thayer are sisters.

Public to Name New Schools

What to name the two new high schools is a problem faced by the Grossmont High School Board of Trustees.

The discussion at a recent board meeting came from the need of determining what names will be selected for the two new high schools planned in the Grossmont district—one in La Mesa, and the other near El Cajon.

Considerable difference of opinion has already arisen over the names, and Smith cautioned that this is the type of question that sometimes produces great heat.

The names of La Mesa and El Cajon have been suggested for the two schools, but these have not met with favor on the part of some citizens of other communities whose children will attend the two schools, such as Lakeside, Lemon Grove and Rossmore.

These people have argued that they don't want to have another city's name attached to the high school which their children attend. The name Grossmont has been acceptable to all because it is not the name of a city, it is stated.

Those supporting use of the above names, point to the value of naming the school in such a way that its location is obvious.

The board decided that it would submit the matter to the people of the Grossmont district by means of a newspaper ballot. A uniform ballot will be prepared and all newspapers published in the high school district will be asked to print it in their issue on or nearest to Friday, January 13. On this ballot, the public will be asked to indicate preference for names for both schools.

Christmas Party Friday Evening

The community Christmas party, sponsored by the Lions Club, for the kiddies of the community, will take place at the Christmas tree on Imperial and Broadway tomorrow (Friday) evening.

There will be candy for all the children, and Santa will be there to greet them.

There will be Carol singers and other entertainment during the evening.

Catholic Veterans Enjoy Ham Dinner

Post 1511, Catholic War Veterans, the Woman's Auxiliary and their families enjoyed a Christmas party held Sunday at St. John of the Cross school auditorium. A ham supper was served with Mrs. James Feuling, Auxiliary president in charge.

Santa Claus, a Christmas tree and gifts were enjoyed by the children.

The organizations packed presents and food for a Christmas dinner for an adopted needy family.

All eligible veterans are urged to attend the next regular meeting. Contact Ben E. Ruef, Commander or John Galligan, Adjutant.

Mrs. Haaf Gets Jap Christmas Card

A most interesting Christmas card was received by Mrs. Ted Haaf, president of the Forward Club, from member of the Shinsei Yokosuka Woman's Club in Japan. The card was written by Mrs. Tanaka, president of the club, for Mrs. Moto Hemi, wife of a Buddhist priest who assists the club of 1000 members in welfare work.

Mrs. Hemi desires to correspond with Mrs. Haaf, as a friendly gesture and to learn something of the work of Women's Clubs.

Twenty-five members of the Forward Club are corresponding with the same number of members of a Woman's Club in Germany.

SQUARE DANCE CLASS

The square dance class which meets on the first and third evenings at the V.F.W. hall will have an extra date next Thursday evening at 7:30. Everyone be there, please.

Boy Scout and Cub Scout News

New Kiwanis Club Holds First Meeting

The newly organized Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club had its first meeting Monday noon at the Camanche Bowl.

The meeting was conducted by John Gibson, president of the La Mesa sponsoring club.

Von N. Marshall was program chairman, introducing Leo R. B. Hendrickson, who spoke on the Colorado river situation and the attitude of Arizona officials in regard to the seven-state pact.

The speaker outlined the proposed Bridges canyon dam which

To encourage the daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships.

To promote the adoption and the application of higher social, business and professional standards.

To develop by precept and example, a more intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship.

To provide, through Kiwanis clubs, a practical means to form enduring friendships, to render altruistic service and to build better communities.

To co-operate in creating and maintaining that sound public opinion and high idealism which make possible the increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism and good will.

Arizona is asking the Federal government to build for the purpose of irrigating several thousand acres of arid land at a cost of approximately $1,700 per acre for land that won't be worth more $300 per acre.

The club will meet at luncheon on Tuesday noon next week on account of Monday being a holiday. Rev. Alex A. Milmine, Pastor of La Mesa Congregational church, will be the speaker.

Dr. Peter Shea is president of the new club. He announced that he hopes to have the club meet in Lemon Grove within a short time.

Christmas Day Services

The anniversary of the birth of the Christ Child will be celebrated at all of the churches in this area on Christmas Day. The doors of any and all churches are open to those who would worship the King. Members are urged to attend, and visitors are cordially invited.

St. John of the Cross Catholic Church will observe the traditional Christmas eve high mass at midnight with services in both the church and in the chapel in the basement.

The senior choir will sing the high mass and Christmas carols in the church, while the children's choir will sing in the chapel in the basement.

Fr. J. W. McDonagh, pastor, and Fr. Patrick Reilly, assistant pastor, extend their greetings to the community. Friends are welcome to attend this service.

At the Lutheran Church, next Sunday, Christmas will be celebrated at a worship service at 10:45 a. m. when Rev. LeRoy Elster will speak on "When God Invaded the World."

The choir under the direction of Carl Liebig, will sing two anthems: Over Bethlehem Town, and Christmas Songs.

"As With Gladness Men of Old" is the worship theme of the Candlelight Service to be held at 7 p.m., Saturday evening in the Vista La Mesa Church sanctuary. The Primary Department of the church school made special candle holders for the windows for this service, and presented them to the sponsors, the Young Adult Fellowship.

The Christmas story, to be read by the Rev. Russell Hensley, will be interspersed with many interesting arrangements of familiar carols and less familiar numbers from a cantata. Mrs. Katherine Neavitt and Mrs. Russell Hensley will be soprano soloists; Mrs. Paul Myers and Miss Harriet Mason will sing "Away in a Manger." Paul Myers is to be baritone soloist; Bob Bennett, tenor soloist; Gregory Boddy is to sing the lead in the male Quartet's arrangement of "Watchman, Tell Us of the Night" and Mrs. Hensley, Mrs. Irvine Smith, Mr. Bennett, and Mr. Myers are to sing the theme carol as a mixed quartet. Other members of the choral group are Heywood Pritchett, Jr., Eddie DeHoney, Vincent Oslie, and others.

The office hours during the renewal period will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. The office is at Third avenue and Cedar streets.

Business Women Enjoy Santa Claus

The Business Women enjoyed a very nicely arranged luncheon meeting last Thursday. Tables were decorated with evergreens, red candles, red berries and poinsettias. Gaily wrapped gifts piled high on a table also added to the festive occasion.

The following guests were welcomed: Mesdames Lem Clark, R. A. Lee, Don Rinker, Geo. Lenox, Robt. Castiglia, Alec Antonetti, Ted Mangano, M. Anderson, W. H. Carpenter and Miss Florence McFarland.

The welfare chairman will work with the community in assisting needy families during the holidays.

The group sang carols and were entertained with special Christmas songs by Mesdames W. Toomire, D. Cook, A. Huebsch, E. McGuire, G. Dickinson and Paul Duley.

Numbers were drawn and Santa Claus, played by Mrs. Paul Duley, gave each one present a gift with a corresponding number.

The Lions reported that they had purchased 500 pounds of candy for the Christmas Party. The Business Women quickly got a group to come to Friendship Hall Monday afternoon and pack the candy into 1000 sacks.

Forward Junior Club News

The Forward Club Juniors held their annual Christmas party for the children of the members today, at 1:00 p.m. in the Forward clubhouse. Myra Sonka's dancing group furnished the entertainment and Santa of course presided over the event, handing out little gifts and candy canes. Chairman of the party was Mrs. Ralph Dewey assisted by Mesdames Howard Jennings, Leon Meyer, George Salter, Andy Skaggs and Charles Trent. The Christmas tree, which will be decorated with small packages of food wrapped in gaily colored paper will be given to a needy family.

NEW SUBDIVISION

Volney R. Hansen, a newcomer from Texas, is subdividing 16 lots, 78x131 feet at the corner of Jefferson and Washington streets.

License Renewals Start January 3

The fastest auto license renewal in the history of San Diego has been promised by Beth Bennett, manager of the San Diego office of the Motor Vehicle Department. The renewal period starts January 3 and ends February 4.

Two-part registration cards are being mailed out to the owners of the more than 209,000 vehicles in San Diego County. One part is in effect a bill. The other is a potential registration certificate.

"The motorists brings in the two-part card and the fee," said Manager Bennett. We take half the card for our files, then give back the other half which, when we have validated it, will become the registration certificate. The motorist can put the certificate in the holder on his car right away.

"With the certificate, the motorist will be handed back two metal tabs to be affixed to the present license plates. All this will not take more than a minute. We expect to handle up to 10,000 motorists a day."

The present auto plates will have to last the motorist through 1950, she added. Plates designed for five years of service are now being made for issuance in 1951. The present plates were issued in 1947 and tabs have been placed on them to validate 1948 and '49 registrations.

For motorists whose present plates are worn out, the department issues new ones for $1 and the old ones.

The San Diego motor vehicle office handled up to 6000 motorists a day during the 1949 renewal, but new and speedier plan worked out for 1950 will boost this considerably. There were 200,750 motor vehicles in the county at the 1949 renewal. Up to September 30 this year the total was 209,824.

The office hours during the renewal period will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. The office is at Third avenue and Cedar streets.

Lemon Grove Schools to Get Share of Fund

Lemon Grove, along with nine other San Diego County school districts stand to pick up a total of $59,000 in emergency state aid under terms of a bill scheduled for passage at the special session of the Legislature, stated Sen. Fred Kraft, of San Diego County in Sacramento.

Sen. Kraft said the emergency bill, calling for a $2,100,000 appropriation, would be one of the last major items passed before the lawmakers end the special session late this afternoon.

The senator said the Alpine, Clover Flat, Fallbrook, Lakeside, Lemon Grove, Otay, Richmar, Solano Beach, South Bay and Vista school districts will share the $59,000 allocation to San Diego County. Specific amounts for each district were not available.

The money is being set up to help those school districts which have seen such rapid growth in enrollment since last September that they might not be able to meet expenses over the statutory 170-day school year, Kraft said.

To Hold Boy Scout Court of Honor

An investiture ceremony for Boy Scout Troop 8, sponsored by Post 2032, VFW, will be held at the VFW hall, Imperial at Lincoln on Friday evening of next week at 7:30.

Among those participating will be 20 cubs entering Tenderfoot, five second class and three first class. Merit badges and other awards will be presented.

Parents and friends are cordially invited, parents being urged to attend. All cubs of Pack 8 and the also invited.

Refreshments will be served.

Talks and Walks With Mother Nature

BY TRIXIE TREGANZA

KILLDEER

Come with me today, says Mother Nature, across the fields and through the by-ways of Lemon Grove. I will introduce you to some of my helpers and show how they live and work.
Here are two now, coming to meet us and announcing themselves—killdeer, killdeer, killdeer with a loud, noisy, shrill voice of welcome. Now they have settled on the field right over there. Can you see them?
Their dull brown coats, white vests, white forehead and collar encircled by two black bands?
How cleverly I protect my children. For all the world they look like sunlight and shadow streaking across the ground. I have taught Mrs. Killdeer how to build her nest right out in the open, anywhere on the bare ground, in ploughed fields, in fields of grain, on a bank beside the stream or puddle of water beside the road, even in the barnyard. She cups out a little hollow and around the edge puts some bits of broken shell, a few pebbles and perhaps some small sticks and blades of dry grass, just as fancy leads her. All ready now for the eggs! And even though they are right out in the open on the bare ground, I will protect them. I shall color them a yellowish gray and blotch and spot them with dark brown and black so they will blend perfectly into the landscape and it will take a very bright, sharp pair of eyes to discover them. Every day for nearly two weeks, Mother and Daddy Killdeer will take turns setting on the eggs and carefully turning them.
There will be four in number, shaped almost like tops, not quite so fat at the large end but very pointed. It is a very big egg for the size of bird, in fact, almost as large as the body of the Killdeer when stripped of its feathers. You ask, why such a large egg? Well, first of all, I must think of babies comfort and welfare when it pecks its way out into this big world, no soft cradle lined with warm fleece feathers nestled into the snug crotch of a sheltering tree.
Yes, little baby Killdeer must be prepared to meet the world and commence living just as soon as it is dry and able to stand on its legs. So into each shell I must put enough material to make strong bone and downy feathers to clothe each little chick.

And now, Mother and Daddy Killdeer are exceedingly busy parents with their sturdy, hungry brood of four. They must rustle and forage from the first gray streaks of dawn until the lengthening shadows of the setting sun tells them it is time to gather their little ones close under their wings and settle down for the night. All day long there are grasshoppers, beetles, crickets, water bugs, leeches, worms, dragon fly eggs, pollywogs and larvae of mosquitoes: such a big bill to select from—but they are not easy to find. Each one of these insects belong to my family too, and I have taught them how to protect themselves in many and devious ways so they will not be exterminated before their mission is fulfilled. For everything on this earth, I have created a natural enemy—something to hold it in check, something to prevent any one family or species from becoming too powerful and upsetting the harmony of my plans. And so, the Killdeer must work hard and long. They must take their children hither and thither, prying, pecking, rooting under every pebble in field and stream and muddy bank in search of their daily food.

While I'm speaking of bird babies, continues Mother Nature, I really believe the Killdeer babies are my favorites. They are the dearest, cutest things you ever saw, just exactly like Mother and Daddy, so alert, so cunning. I have taught them how to flatten themselves right out on the ground when danger hovers about. Just watch Mrs.
Killdeer sometime when she has eggs in the nest. She will see you coming a long way off and will come out to meet you, not a sound, not a word of welcome. She will run along the ground in front of you in the opposite direction from her nest, all the time making you think that she is leading you right to her home. Visit her sometime when the babies are in the nest or running about in the short grass. She leaps into the air, circling and screaming frantically, or she limps along the ground affecting a broken wing or flutters with wings and tail outspread, uttering low notes of pain. She is really tragic in her efforts to draw your attention from her nest and little ones.

Just as soon as Mr. and Mrs.
Killdeer have raised one family so they can be independent and look after themselves—they set up housekeeping again and raise another brood. Most likely before the season is over, a third brood is hatched. Very often one nest is destroyed by rats, gophers or snakes. Sometimes the farmer plowing in the field or orchard breaks up a home.
Then Mrs. Killdeer must wait two weeks before she can find a new location.

Here in Lemon Grove the Killdeer live the year round. They do not need to migrate during the winter months for there is always an abundance of food, in fact, there is plenty for many of their friends from Utah and Colorado and the high mountain countries who come down to join them.

For some months, now, the Killdeer have been silent. Occasionally on sunny days or bright, moonlight nights we hear their call. But soon as the winter rains have ceased they will set up housekeeping again and the shrill cries of killdeer, killdeer, killdeer, will remind us that spring is here and that all Nature is renewing itself.

FARM NEWS

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

SUPPLEMENTS ON WINTER PASTURE

Young cattle now on winter pastures should receive enough supplemental feed to produce a gain of one to one and one-quarter pounds per day. Farm Advisor F. W. Dorman of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, says winter pastures are often lacking in both quantity and quality.
The young grass coming up on the range now is high in protein and is also high in water.
This means the cattle are not getting enough dry matter and total feed nutrients to meet their requirements. These lacking nutrients can be supplied by feeding one to two pounds of barley per head per day. The amount will depend largely on the age and size of the cattle.

As the green feed becomes more mature it will supply enough of the nutrients so the supplemental feeding can be discontinued on most California ranges. Often the cattle themselves will refuse any extra feed when the range is good.

NEW HOME ADVISOR

Miss Bena Marie Johnson's appointment to the position of Home Advisor in the San Diego County Staff of Agricultural Extension Service, was announced today by Farm Advisor E. C.
Moore. Miss Johnson's responsibility will be largely in the work with the 4-H Clubs throughout San Diego County filling the vacancy in the staff which developed with the resignation of Miss Alman Carlson.

Miss Carlson had made a very creditable record of accomplishment in this work during the time she was in San Diego County, and her resignation was made necessary by problems of illness of her parents in Long Beach.

Miss Johnson's qualifications for the position are very high, particularly in previous public service experience as well as in education and technical training.
She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, with a year of internship as dietician at St.
Andrews Hospital in Minneapolis.
Subsequently, she has been identified with several public service organizations, including the past six years with the American Red Cross in the Pacific area. She assumed official duty in San Diego County on December 16, with headquarters located in Room 404, U. S. Customs building.

There is a beautiful poinsetta that still holds its head high after all the past weather elements. As I passed a little white cottage at New Jersey and Pacific every morning, my eye was taken to a pretty one with red berries and a stately poinsetta. Thinking of course they were growing there, but wondering why after the freeze, why they were still alive.
